

Approved For Release 2000/05/24 :

ADMINISTRATIVE INTERNAL USE ONLY

STATINTL
010034-6

NATIONAL CAPITAL AWARD, HONORABLE MENTION FOR 1964
STATINTL

[REDACTED] an electronics engineer in the Office of Science and Technology received the CERTIFICATE OF RECOGNITION during Engineers' Week which is sponsored by the D. C. Council of Engineering and Architectural Societies and the Washington Academy of Sciences. In nominating him, the Deputy Director, Lieutenant General Marshall S. Carter stated:

"He is an outstanding young professional electronics engineer who is serving in our research and development program in a position which requires highly specialized technical knowledge. Prior to joining [REDACTED] had a notable career in the United States Air Force as Electronics Warfare Officer. We feel that his excellent record with the USAF and the professional competence which he has demonstrated in this agency make him a fitting representative of the young engineers in Government."

STATINTL

STATINTL [REDACTED] an architect in the Office of Logistics received the National Capital Award for 1960.

ADMINISTRATIVE INTERNAL USE ONLY

Approved For Release 2000/05/24 : CIA-RDP75-00001R000400010034-6